JOB TITLE

Trader

JOB DESCRIPTION

Your job is to place and maintain buy orders for the corporation as directed by your superiors in accordance with the trading assignment spreadsheet posted in our Trading forums. Your pay will be equal to a publicly announced share of the money saved by the corporation buying below the reference prices contained in the spreadsheet times your relative contribution to these savings as measured in your trade value and achievement of procurement targets. Reference prices will approximate market value. You will be paid at the end of each calendar week. Subject to efficiency considerations and the availability of several interested employees you may also participate in corporation-wide auctions in which items are offered below market value, making money by resale. Please refer to our forums for details.

Trading for individual corporation members such as our Industrialists is not governed by this agreement but subject to private negotiation.
